FOR YOUR HOME & FAMILY

Even better things are on the horizon

Everyone likes a brighter, better day. And we're doing our part to ensure the brightest days are ahead for your family in 2015 because we know that keeping Florida a great place to live is important for all of us.

For us, that means continuing to make the most of Florida's very own sunshine by turning the sun's rays into clean energy for you and learning new ways to energize our communities. We're also working to serve you better whenever and wherever you need us, even online. That's why we're upgrading FPL.com to make it simpler, easier and faster for you.

Plus, who doesn't love when bills get lower? And, starting in January, your electric bill is getting even lower, too.
